Views of a Recognized Authority.

From Printers Ink. In importance in Washington The Star comes first and is probably not only the most conspicuous and prosperous daily in Washington, but is without doubt the best appreciated and best patronized evening newspaper in the United States. In point of circulation it is not reached by any other evening paper that is sold for more than one cent anywhere in America. The circulation of The Star is confined almost exclusively to Washington. It is claimed for it, and probably truthfully claimed, that no other newspaper in the country goes into so large a percentage of all the houses within a radius of twenty miles from the office of publication. The Star has enjoyed unprecedented prosperity for twenty-five years, and is one of the very few papers that has failed to advance its advertising rates in proportion to its growth in circulation, influence and popularity with the community in Considering its character, influence and circulation, its advertising rates are ex-ceedingly low, being matched in this receedingly low, being matched in this respect by no more than two or three newspapers issued in other sections. The class of advertising it carries is of the best. The value of this paper to an advertiser, all things considered, and taken in connection with the comparative cost of advertising in it, places it not lower down than third in a list of all the best daily papers published in the United States, and in making out such a list a well-informed advertiser will have great difficulty in deciding upon even so small a number as ciding upon even so small a number as two to place in advance of The Star. He may even fall to fix upon one.

FERRARI COMMITTED.

With Polti, the Informer, Held for Trial in London.

ANARCHISTS RAGING AT THE LATTER.

Treachery.

LONDON, April 24.-Polti and Ferrari, the Italian anarchists, were again brought up at Bow street police court today. The police baving been warned that an anarchist outrage was contemplated, the court was closely guarded by a strong detachment of police. The greatest precautions were taken by the authorities in order to prevent a bomb explosion, every person approaching the neighborhood of Bow street being closely watched and in some cases, people carrying parcels, &c., were

The two prisoners were brought from Holloway jail in a prison van, and the route from the prison was lined with policemen and detectives, who were stationed at short intervals of a few yards apart. The police feared that an attempt was to be made to attack the prison van and murder Polti while attempting the rescue of Ferrari, the "No. 1" of the anarchists of London. The latter are reported to be determined to take the life of Polti, if pos-sible, as it is now admitted that he has informed the police of everything he knows in connection with anarchy and anar-

In the police court this morning documents in Polit's handwriting were read, showing that he intended to commit a dy-namite outrage on May 16, and that Politi namite outrage on May 16, and that Polti himself expected to meet his death upon that date. The prisoner had written letters of farewell to his parents and others dated May 16. These documents were found at the prisoner's lodgings.

After some further evidence had been submitted, similar in tone to the facts already cabled, both of the prisoners were remanded.

Sensation in Notre Dame.

PARIS, April 24.-A sensation was caused esterday evening in the Church of Notre Dame. A man, supposed to be insane, who was among the crowd of worshipers, suddenly drew a revolver and fired four shots before he was disarmed. The firing caused a panic in the church, men, women and children running shrieking toward the doors, anticipating another anarchist explosion. Luckily, not one of the shots took effect, and the man who caused the panic was removed and placed in custody.

CHARGED WITH BLACKMAIL. Sensational Disclosures Regarding Police Officers.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.-A sensation has been brewing in police circles here for several weeks, it having been known that the board of police commissioners had under quiet investigation a large number of policemen suspected of corrupt methods. An intimation of what might be looked for was given a week ago when Capt. Wm. E. Hall, who acted as Chief Crowley's confidential clerk, and five patrolmen were suddenly dismissed from the department. The climax came last night when the poice commissioners dismissed without trial three sergeants, two veteran detectives and nine patrolmen. It is stated that still oth-

It is charged that the disgraced policemen have long been operating under Capt. Hall and other officers high in the department in levying systematic blackmail upon gamblers and others who have been allowed to violate the law. The men dismissed last night are nearly all from the Chinatown districts, where lottery and fan-tan gambling has long flourished under corrupt police protection. ers are to follow

INDIANA REPUBLICANS.

The State Convention to Be Held To-

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 24.-Numerically the state republican convention to be held tomorrow in this city will be by far the largest ever held in the state. Seventeen hundred and fifteen delegates will vote for the candidates, the largest previous convention having comprised 1,200 delegates. The nine offices for which candidates will be chosen are confronted with forty-three candidates. This, too, exceeds in number all previous records. The office of clerk of the supreme court heads the list with nine candidates. Then comes the auditorship. Indianapolis has three candidates for attorney general, with apparently equal strength. They are Wm. A. Ketcham, Thomas Hanna, ex-lieutenant governor, and Wm. L. Taylor. The contest for secretary of state is attracting the widest interest, as that office is regarded as containing greater possibilities than any other, and by precedent is the resting place before gubernatorial honors. A conspicuous candidate for the office is Aaron Jones of South Bend, who headed the Aaron Jones of South Bend, who headed the ticket two years ago. The present program calls for but two speeches, and one of these will be by ex-President Harrison. Ex-Secretary of the Navy Richard W. Thompson of Terre Haute will likely be chosen as president of the convention. Gen. Harrison is expected to make some remarks concern-ing national affairs, and his close friends say that he will talk unreservedly and plainly.

The platform is causing much speculation. The committee will be engaged in its preparation all of tonight. It will, undoubtedly, arraign both the state and national admit istration and condemn in strong terms the democratic reapportionment of 1893. The A. P. A. will be considered by the commit-tee by request of certain prominent Catholic republicans, but whether it will be mentioned in the platform is uncertain.

This congressional district (the seventh) will choose a republican candidate to op-

THE GREAT NORTHERN STRIKE.

Mr. Goodwin, the Organizer of the American Railway Union, Talks. SEATTLE, Wash., April 24.-R. W. Goodwin of Kalishel, the organizer of the American Railway Union, who has been organizing ledges of that order along the line of the Northern Pacific in this state, has arrived in this city. He, co-jointly with James Hogan of Butte, another organizer, ordered the strike on the Great Northern system or, rather, they passed the word long the line that the strike had been Determined to Kill Him for His ordered by more than two-thirds of the local unions on the system, as he says that is the only way a strike can be ordered according to the by-laws of the American

GENERAL FOREIGN MATTERS

according to the by-laws of the American Railway Union.

Mr. Goodwin gives his reasons for the strike as follows: On April 10 Gen. Supt. Bryan ordered seventy-five wrecked cars and two engines at the Great Falls shops and two engines at the Great Falls shops to be taken to the St. Cloud shops to be repaired and discharged thirty-seven men at the Great Falls shops. As no advantage to the road was apparent in this course and the men protested against the action and a committee of the workingmen, after considerable argument, obtained from Bryan a revocation of the order.

That night he sent a cipher dispatch to the headquarters of the company stating what he had done and saying that he was rushing material into the smelters so as to enable them to stand a three weeks' siege. He also suggested that the Northern Pacific be requested to handle the Great Northern's perishable freight and live stock and urged General Manager Case to send railroad general Manager Case to send railroad men of all descriptions to Great Falls. The telegraph operator in whose hands the dispatch was placed for transmission is a member of the American Railway Union and he had a cipher code at hand. He assumed that the company was contemplating a lock out and notified the union of the message sent.

The body at once proposed a strike, the question was submitted to all the unions of the system by wire and on the 13th, at noon, Goodwin and Hogan ordered the

CHANGED THE SHIP'S COURSE.

The Third Officer of the Steamer Los Angeles Charged With Carelessness MONTEREY, Cal., April 24.-The coroner's investigation into the cause of the wreck of the steamship Los Angeles at Point Sur on Saturday right has resulted in a verdict charging Roger Ryfkogel, the ship's third officer, with criminal negligence and carelessness. He was taken into custody and will be tried for manslaughter. The tetsimony before the coroner's jury showed that Ryfkogel changed the ship's course without consulting the captain, doing so after Capt. Leland had particularly ordered that he be called from his bunk to direct the steamer's course when the Point Sur light should be reached.

The hidden rocks on which the vessel was wrecked are some distance north of the light. It was shown, too, that the night was clear and the light in full view, though the accused third officer in his testimony insisted that the sky was hazy. He adinsisted that the sky was hazy. He ad mitted, however, his disregard of Capt. Le land's orders. The bodies of five of the six persons known to have been lost have been re-

Capt. Leland and other survivors of the capt. Leiand and other survivors of the wrecked Los Angeles have been most kindly cared for by the crew of the Point Sur light house. All of the passengers are in a pitiful condition. Many escaped from the steamer in night garments only, and all were very scantily attired. The suffering from cold during Saturday night was intense, as an unusually stiff southwest wind was blowing.

Five bodies have so far been recovered, four of which were taken dead from the water. One man died on shore from injuries received by being tossed about on the wreck. The Los Angeles will be a total loss. All survivors seem agreed that the disaster was caused by the negligence of an officer who steered the vessel from her course.

BERNSTEIN NOT DEAD.

OAKLAND, Cal., April 24.-Julius Bern stein, who had engaged none too successfully in various lines of business here, strangely disappeared in October last, leaving behind letters that intimated that he intended to end his life and thus escape pressing creditors. His family was left in destitute circumstances save for $9,000 of endowment policies on Bernstein's life, of which $5,000 was in the Endowment Rank of Odd Fellows, $2,000 in the order of B'nai B'rith, and $2,000 in the order of United Workmen. Soon after her husband's disappearance, Mrs. Bernstein made a strong effort to realize on these policies, but inas-much as she could not prove her husband's death, payment was deferred however, the B'nai B'rith paid its insurance to a trustee, to be held in trust for two years. This done, Mrs. Bern-stein arranged with the trustee to go with her children to her old home in Berlin Germany, and to have the balance of her nsurance money forwarded to her when she could collect it. Tickets were purchased and the family departed. Through letters received here from Detroit, Mich., it appears that Bernstein's family, including the missing husband, "widow" and her chil dren, are now living in that city. It is stated that action for fraud will be begun.

Will Wait for Official Reports. Commander J. G. Eaton of the steel in spection board and Lieut, J. H. Holcombe have been specially assigned to duty at the Carnegle works at Homestead, Pa., in connection with the manufacture of steel armor plates for government vessels, in order to determine that the contract requirements are fully met. Until the re-ports of these officers shall have been submitted it is not likely that the Secretary of the Navy will act in the matter of the frauds alleged by Attorney Wallace to have been practiced by the contractors since the recent compromise. The impression prevails at the Navy Department that the reports of recent frauds in the way of securing proper magazine reports

There is a proposition before the War Department for a wholesale release of prisoners at the military prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. This building has accommodations for 550 prisoners and has now 643 inmates, and the accessions are constantly in excess of the releases. The large number of prisoners is attributed to the reward of $60 offered for the apprehension of deserters, which has recently stimulated activity in that respect. The plan under consideration contemplates remitting the unexpired sentences of about 100 prisoners having the best prison records.

The main address of welcome on behalf The main address of welcome on behalf of the Washington men was delivered by Dr. W. E. Dieffenderfer, president of the Washington City Dental Society. He gave a brief but interesting resume, not only of the advance made in dentistry during the past few years, but also of what yet remains to be accomplished. For instance, he said that the perfect filling had not yet been discovered and that education is not yet so widespread on the subject that mothers understand the diet and care for young yet so widespread on the subject that mothers understand the diet and care for young children so as to insure them good teeth in later life. In coaclusion Dr. Dieffenderfer bade all the visitors the heartiest kind of a welcome to Washington, which he spoke of as the "Mecca for all good Americans, in-

The response to this address of welcome The response to this address of welcome was delivered by Dr. B. Holly Smith of Baltimore, president of the Maryland State Dental Association. He spoke of the great needs in the way of securing legislation to protect the public from quackery and in advancing the common interests of the profession generally, as inducements toward a more complete union between the two securing the complete more complete union between the two societies. In the event of the union meetings continuing, he suggested that a clinic in Baltimore be held one afternoon in the quarter, when cases may be reported and papers read. This, he thought, would be an important and valuable innovation that a minimum and valuable innovation that a minimum and the bediam of savage excitement cannot be described. But she revived after Probable Release of Prisoners.

There is a proposition before the War Department for a wholesale release of prisoners at the multiple of the meeting, among them the following: "Soft Gold Cylinders; How and Where to Use Them," by Dr. L. C. F. Hugo; "Ambidextrousness," by Dr. A. W. Sweeney; "Strangulated Nervo" by Dr. A. W. Sweeney;

He urged the young men in the profession to practice with their left hands, assuring them that they would find it all the greatest value to them, and at the same time a matter of comparatively easy acquirement. The paper was liberally discussed by the other members, all laying great stress upon the importance of the subject. Its value in intellectual training was also referred to fall or deteriorate. to at considerable extent.

SENATORS FENCING.

The Little Bout in the Senate Yesterday About the Agreement.

Though there is an "amicable agreement" in force between the republicans and democrats of the Senate with reference to the tariff debate, scarce a day passes without a slight clash between the two sides of the chamber. Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock Mr. Quay interrupted Mr. Dolph in the midst of a section of his speech to remind him that the time for the debate had expired for the day. Mr. Dolph was unwilling to break the agreement, and was about to yield the floor, when Senator Gray secured recognition to argue that there was nothing in the agreement, in letter or spirit, to prevent any Senator from continuing to speak after 5 o'clock if he should desire. "But it is perfectly apparent," he went on, "and it has been apparent here for two weeks, that the other side do not intend that the debate shall continue any longer than possible, and that the time shall be consumed and wasted." "I have conscientious scruples against continuing the debate after 5 o'clock," said

Mr. Quay, "and I believe the other side de-sire an executive session."
"The Senator from Delay are is very un-'The Senator from Delay, are is very un-kind to suggest that time should be wasted," ruefully remarked Mr. Dolph, "He knows that I gave him a great deal of time on Saturday, and that I was very liberal." "I want to return the compliment by giv-ing the Senate plenty of time this after-ncon," retorted Mr. Gray. "The object is too apparent on the other side in their man-ner of conducting the debate."

At this point Mr. Chandler got into the controversy with characteristic agility. "I

Columbia about twenty years ago, an organization that gradually died out of existence and was finally disbanded. Two organizations were formed, and this joint meeting so well attended today made it look as though a mistake had been made in breaking up the original joint association.

At this point Mr. Chandler got into the controversy with characteristic agility. "I do not think this side of the chamber should be censured," he said, "for confining the debate to the terms agreed upon. It was an amicable agreement that the debate should proceed from 1 o'clock until 5; and now the Senator from Delaware seems to complain of the Senators on this side of the chamber should be censured," he said, "for confining the debate to the terms agreed upon. to complain of the Senators on this side because they ask that the discussion may be cussion should cease at 5 o'clock, and that the Senate should then proceed to the consideration of other business. Senator from Delaware says that we are wasting time. Certainly there has never been any more time than has been needed after 5 o'clock for other business and executive sessions Then Senator Harris interposed a motion for an executive session, and the discussion was ended.

> WOMEN ATTACKED DEPUTIES. An Exciting Combat at a Coke Plant Near Uniontown, Pa.

The Oliver coke plant near Uniontown Pa., was the scene of disorder and bloodshed yesterday. A striker named Michael E. Fetzko stoned the coke drawers while they were at work in the yard. Sheriff Wilhelm and a posse of deputies arrested him, when about fifty women assembled and demanded his release. The answer was a yell of defiance, and then the whole crowd of cursing, screaming women charged the squad of men, attacking them with every conceivable missile and weapon except firearms.

Blood was flowing from numbers of the men in a moment, and when some of them had been knocked down they were forced to fight back. Mrs. Fetzko, the leader of the furies, rushed at Deputy Sheriff Richards with an uplifted ax. He evaded the blow not be described. But she revived after fully twenty minutes. When she struck at Richards with her ax the other deputies threw off the restraint that had made them helpless against the women heretofore. Numbers of women were felled with blows from maces, others were stabled with bayonets or beaten with the stocks of Winchesters, and the sheriff had great difficulty in preventing the men from shooting them down like dogs.

AMBASSADOR BAYARD A GUEST. His Speech at the St. George's Day Banquet in London.

The usual St. George's day banquet was given last evening at the Mansion House, London. Many colonial and Indian representatives were present. The lord mayor proposed a toast to United States Ambassador Bayard.

In replying, Mr. Bayard said that he felt greatly embarrassed by the infinite hospitality of the English cousins. He was very conscious that the present occasion was a gathering of the clans. The chickens were returning to roost with the mother. He himself was, in a way, part of the branch broken off almost 120 years ago. He met his fellow-British men at the table with a sense of deep joy. He and his people were working with them to sustain the best hopes of the world's civilization and the progress of its better elements. All were members of a great voluntary committee, charged with the traditions and heritages of their race, to insure the principles of

Value of Silver in India.

Consul General Polk of Calcutta has sent to the Department of State a copy of the rew tarift law of India, and in his letter of transmittal says: "The act is strictly an act for the raising of revenue. This action has been rendered necessary by the increased revenue required to meet the payments on the gold debt due from India to England, resulting from the fall in the gold value of silver, which is the money of the country. The government hopes by means of the proceeds of this tax and by retrench-ment in the annual expenditures on internal improvements to meet the deficit. The most remarkable feature of the act is that it allows manufactures of cotton, about forty per cent of the total imports, to come in free, which has excited intense but ineffectual opposition."

Congressional Record for Soldiers Homes.

Senator Martin has given notice of an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill providing for furnishing regularly three copies of the Congressional Record to soldiers' homes.

A THREE YEARS' SENTENCE

Imposed on One of the Most Noted Sneak Thieves in the Country. Judge Cole today sentenced Raleigh, alias Rollo Tefft, a young man, to three years in the Albany penitentiary, upon a plea of gullty of grand larceny. On the 10th of last month Tefft, who ha the unenviable reputation of being one of the most noted sneak thieves in the country, entered the house of Edward Hayes, 915 E street, and stole therefrom about $1,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry, the who had been in town for some time, at once left the city. His description was sent out through the country, and a few weeks ago he was arrested at Allegheny City, Pa. Detective Boardman went on to bring him back, but upon reaching there found that the fellow had escaped. The man was next caught at Chicago, and was brought here several days ago.

This morning Tefft plead guilty, at d

Judge Cole sentenced him to three year in the Albany penitentiary at hard labor. The fellow has already done time in other prisons, and his photo graces the rogues galleries of several cities. But a very smal part of Mr. Hayes' property was recovered Mayor Gilroy of New York urges the
